NO. 5:13-CV-00277-MTT-MSH

ORDER ON OBJECTION AND MOTIONS

Petitioner Daniel Eric Cobble, an inmate currently confined at Baldwin State Prison, in Hardwick, Georgia, filed a pro se “Writ of Coram Nobis and Audita Querela” (Doc. 1). After an initial review, conducted pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1915 and 28 U.S.C. §1915A, the Court determined that Petitioner had not stated a cognizable claim for relief and was otherwise barred, under 28 U.S.C. §1915(g), from litigating his claims in forma pauperis. The petition was dismissed without prejudice, see Order, Aug. 12, 2013 (Doc. 9); and judgment was entered on August 13, 2013 (Doc. 10). Petitioner has now filed an objection to the Court’s order referring the case to a United States Magistrate Judge and multiple post-judgment motions.

Having been read and fully considered, Petitioner’s “Objection” (Doc. 11) to the referral order and Petitioner’s “Motion to Introduce Audio Tape into Evidence” (Doc. 19) are deemed MOOT and DISMISSED. Because Petitioner’s pleading was neither filed nor construed as a motion for federal habeas corpus relief, Petitioner’s “Motion for Certificate of Appealability” (Doc. 13) is also DISMISSED as MOOT.

Petitioner’s Motion for Reconsideration (Doc. 12), to the extent that it can be deciphered, is found to have no merit and to provide no valid basis for reconsideration; it is thus DENIED.

Petitioner’s “Emergency Motion to Arrest Defendant” (Doc. 17) is also DENIED. This Court has no authority to order state or federal law enforcement agencies to initiate investigations or prosecutions. Otero v. U. S. Attorney Gen., 832 F.2d 141, 141 (11th Cir. 1987). Even if Petitioner had requested relief available, his “motion” fails to make allegations against any of the parties named in his Petition. If Petitioner wishes to bring civil rights claims against new defendants based on the conditions of his confinement, he must submit new complaint forms and either pay the entire $350.00 fee at the time of filing or seek leave to proceed in forma pauperis in a new action.

SO ORDERED this 1st day of October, 2013.
